DENPLAN ENHANCES TRAINING PROGRAMME WITH NEW CLINICAL CONFERENCES

Denplan has introduced a new range of clinical conferences for 2015, as part of the Denplan Academy training programme, designed for dentists and other clinical team members to provide the very best-in-class training built around their needs. The new one day clinical conferences will be held between May and July around the UK, with expert speakers covering four key clinical subjects each day, including:

- Posterior Restorations with Dr Louis Mackenzie
- Endodontics in Practice with Dr Mike Waplington
- Periodontics in Practice with Dr Paul Weston and Dr Fiona Clarke
- Anterior Restorations with Dr Dipesh Parmar

Dr Louis Mackenzie, recently appointed to lead the clinical training programme at Denplan commented: "We're excited to be running these new clinical conferences. They have been designed to provide an update of contemporary techniques for a comprehensive range of clinical procedures. All the lecturers will provide practical tips on the latest materials, equipment and clinical techniques that will enable clinical teams to optimise patient care in the management of common dental problems."

The lecturers will be supported by specially selected dental companies, allowing delegates to view and test a range of innovative dental products. Participants will also earn seven hours of verifiable CPD.
